

Radiation Biology

This course offers the basic, advanced and clinical radiation biology. The basic part covers physics, chemistry, biology, pathology and statistics. Then, the advanced part includes radiation dosimetry, health physics, radiation therapy, clinical medical physics, drug delivery system, low dose radiation effects and international regulation. The clinical radiation biology covers cancer biology.